PHILLIPS, Chairman.

Rep. Phillips moved to suspend Rule No. 49 (48-hour rule) to allow bills moved from Calendar and Rules Tuesday, February 2, 1988 to be set on the floor calendar for Wednesday, February 3, 1988, which motion prevailed.

SPECIAL REMARKS

Rep. Tanner requested special permission to be recognized in the well for the purpose of making the following remarks, which he requested be spread in the journal:

Thank you Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House.

I've requested this time to address this body, in the hope that these remarks may foster a broader understanding and appreciation for the problems facing the administration of criminal justice in Tennessee.

If by such action, we can heighten public awareness and productive measures be taken thereon, then perhaps what many perceive to be criminal injustice may yet become criminal justice.

I understand and agree that there are those in our penitentiary system who desire work and appreciate state efforts toward rehabilitation. This is especially true for the non-violent offenders and our efforts should support that goal.

However, for those who ignore a basic respect for human life, and for those who use weapons in the commission of crimes, we should consider a much harsher approach.

Should we not say that our system will work with a proper and proportionate balance of leniency and compassion for those criminal individuals respecting the sanctity of another human life.

But for those bent on violence toward humankind with weapons or otherwise, the citizens of Tennessee deserve justice. In my opinion, this distinction is not embodied in the correctional system as presently managed.

And that is why there is something horribly wrong in our state and I believe we cannot serve the people of Tennessee with honor until we ask serious questions about the direction in which we are headed.

No one in this legislature favors easy penalties for serious crimes, but how many days go by without our reading in the newspaper or seeing a story on television about a former convict committing yet another violent offense?

How many new murders and rapes have been committed by criminals who have been briefly, and I stress the word briefly, held in our State Department of Corrections?

Who is making the decision to release these people on our society to commit more crimes without meaningful or appropriate punishment?

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1988 -- FIFTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY

How much longer can our society tolerate rampant crime before more and more criminals realize just how little this state, under an aloof Federal Court, is doing to keep criminals behind bars?

I regret that I cannot answer these questions. I do not have a magic solution, but I beg of you that we begin today to start resolving this problem. It is a cause that all of us can and must make a top priority.

The facts defining criminal justice in Tennessee are ludicrous because the criminals and bureaucrats have redefined justice to injustice.

Please bear with me for a few minutes to listen to these facts:

According to our State Department of Corrections, 19 first-degree murderers, who had been sentenced to life in prison, were released from July 1, 1986 through June 30, 1987 after serving an average of 14 years and 11 months. Is human life so cheap in our state?

According to our State Department of Corrections, 74 rapists were released over the same period after serving an average of 4 years and 8 months. How many rapists convicted in 1984 will be released this year? Using the Department of Corrections "Average time served", how many of these rapists released in 1988 were convicted in 1985, or 1986, or even last year?

How many of the murderers and rapists released this year will be back in the Department of Corrections in 1989? Can we seriously afford to pay the price of committing innocent men, women and children to the penalties inflicted by second, third and sometimes fourth offenders?

According to our state department of corrections, over 25 percent of the criminals incarcerated in 1987 were parole violators. How many of the criminals currently on parole are committing crimes without being apprehended?

According to our State Department of Corrections, over 40 percent of criminals released in 1987 were released by the "safety valve". Surely we are not talking about the safety of the average Tennessean. Whose safety are we talking about when we use this phrase, safety valve?

According to our State Department of Corrections, only one-fifth of the convicted felons currently committed to the custody of the Department of Corrections are serving in prison. Of the remaining number, almost 45 percent of the felons are on probation or in community corrections programs and another one-fourth are on parole after serving their sentence in prison.

Tennessee is simply not doing its job in maintaining the public safety. What are the Department of Corrections goals? Are we going to keep slipping behind our southern neighbors and the rest of the nation?

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1988 -- FIFTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY

According to the Southern Legislative Conference, Tennessee incarcerates fewer inmates for less time at a higher cost than nearly every state we border.

Before I close, please consider this:

Under our complex, complicated, misleading sentencing formulas why does a person sentenced to 20 years in prison walk out after an average of four years?

Should we not have truth in sentencing?

We are lying to the people of this state with our sentencing system. Why must we play a shell game with the public trust?

Why must Tennessee spend more money to incarcerate a criminal than any other state in the south?

Why is the Department of Corrections top-heavy with administrators and managers and still incompetent to address these problems with us and the people of Tennessee?

If the goal of the Department of Corrections is to protect the public from known criminals, then the Department and, unfortunately, our state has completely, totally and abjectly failed.

I'm frustrated, and more than that, I am angry. The people of this state deserve much better than what little they are receiving and I believe we can no longer pretend that the public is blind to this situation and the inequities in the incarceration process.

The Department of Corrections is given a crucial responsibility to protect the people of Tennessee and bureaucracy as usual worsens our problems daily.

Our governor has literally forced the bureaucrats in the Department to get the two maximum-security projects we funded over two years ago to the bidding process.

He is trying as hard as he can to provide more beds for the prison system. The people of Tennessee simply cannot be forced to endure a system that requires the State to continue releasing dangerous criminals. The State must be allowed to provide enough beds to protect the citizens of Tennessee.

Who do you know, what friend, what acquaintance, what Tennessean, must die or be victimized by an habitual criminal before we're ready to take action?

We all know that no easy solutions exist. We know that others must pay the terrible and sometimes ultimate price in human tragedy at the hands of known criminals.

Let our voices be heard by the Department of Corrections, the Sentencing Commission, the Federal Courts, the Judiciary of our state that we are concerned, we are involved, we are aware, and we are impatient with the injustice practiced after conviction.

Legislators are not experts in the criminal justice system. It is time for the people managing the Department to come forward with bold, new initiatives to right a wrong unintentionally perpetrated on Tennessee in the name of criminal justice.
